Valerie’s View Point
Valerie Cornuelle
CVT’s Executive Director

When it comes to writing this column for each edition of Trustline, I usually take the opportunity to discuss what makes CVT unique – superb customer service, a pronounced focus on keeping member costs down and choices from the very best medical plan options. While these attributes are at the core of CVT’s values, we strive to do much more for our members. This is particularly important during this extraordinary time that we are living and working in when the challenges that our members face are unprecedented.

While CVT provides a robust set of resources aimed at our members’ physical health, we also recognize that mental health and emotional wellbeing are just as important. Whether members are managing stress, anxiety and/or isolation caused by the pandemic, or because they or their loved ones have been displaced by this year’s devastating wildfires, CVT’s focus on the mental health and emotional wellbeing of our members is essential right now.

To assist members and maximize the mental health resources available through CVT, we have developed an Emotional Wellbeing Toolkit. Full of resources, tools and links to helpful information provided by our medical plan partners, such as Anthem Blue Cross, Blue Shield of California, Sutter Health | Aetna and Kaiser Permanente, and vendor partners, such as Beacon Health Options, CredibleMind and MDLIVE, this Emotional Wellbeing Toolkit provides our members with a wide variety of options to address their mental health and emotional wellbeing. Please visit our website at www.cvtrust.org/emotional-wellbeing-toolkit.

On behalf of all of us at CVT, I wish you and your families a happy, healthy and safe Thanksgiving.

An Important Message from CVT

Getting a Flu Shot More Important Than Ever

As our communities prepare for the upcoming flu season—and continues to deal with COVID-19, it is vital we continue to raise public awareness about the importance of getting a flu shot.

“We are urging everyone to get vaccinated because the influenza vaccine remains the most effective prevention against contracting the disease and its complications," Dr. David E. Bronstein, a pediatric infectious disease specialist with Kaiser Permanente Antelope Valley, said in a prepared statement. “Catching the flu will compromise your immune system and potentially make you more vulnerable to contracting COVID-19 and other infectious diseases, which would result in dire consequences to your health. The flu is preventable, and the flu shot is our best defense against it.”

In addition to washing your hands thoroughly and often, keeping your distance from others – especially if they are sick – and wearing a mask, getting your flu shot is one of the best ways to protect yourself.

Member Testimonial

Vicki* was diagnosed with Degenerative Disc Disease in her early forties. Her lower back ached as her spinal discs were slowly breaking down. She tried to manage the pain with medication and rest, but it was getting worse. In early 2019, her back hurt daily and she eventually started feeling pain down her leg. She knew it was time to make a change.

Having just received a promotional email from ConsumerMedical, Vicki decided to call. She was interested in learning about different available treatment plans because her doctor had mentioned surgery as an option. ConsumerMedical provided extensive information on her low back pain, different treatment options and a list of questions she could ask her doctors. The team also sent her lists of orthopedic spine and pain medicine specialists she could call for a second opinion.

Vicki visited a physician recommended by ConsumerMedical and decided to change to the new doctor and hospital. She opted for steroid injections instead of surgery. “The information (from ConsumerMedical) was super helpful in explaining different options and giving me physician recommendations,” said Vicki. “It has been great to have a nurse and support to help throughout this process.”

Pay $0 for Specialty Medications with the PrudentRx Copay Program

We all know that the cost of prescription medications is rising. This is especially true of specialty medications. CVT’s priority is to make sure you can continue to access the medications you need at an affordable cost, while also managing costs for the plan.

It’s because of this that we are excited to share important changes to your prescription benefit plan through CVS/Caremark that will start January 1, 2021. CVT will be working with PrudentRx to offer a program that can save you money and reduce your out-of-pocket cost for specialty medications to $0.

As part of your prescription plan, The PrudentRx Copay Program allows you to get all of your specialty medications at no cost to you. That means if you are enrolled in the PrudentRx Copay Program your out-of-pocket cost for specialty medications will be $0. If you do not enroll in the PrudentRx Copay Program, you will be subject to a 30% coinsurance for specialty medications.
